

*All functions in the diagram requires the user to go through the login use case before accessing it (Except creation of new accounts).
Not placed in diagram otherwise very untidy look.

*All functions in the diagram requires the user to go through the login use case before accessing it (Except creation of new accounts).
Not placed in diagram otherwise very untidy look.